We see that the cost of the Book value is lower than the money invested, and the amortization keeps reducing it further. Of the big renovation project in the early 90s, only the trains (about 130M$) ended up on the books in its entirety, whereas only half of the 168M$ infrastructure investment did and was reduced to only a quarter within ten years by amortization!

At the beginning of the year it seemed that Crossrail was experiencing something of an information blackout. At a TfL board meeting in late January, the Mayor, its chairman, moved all further discussion about the project into  part 2  (public excluded) at the earliest opportunity. The sound of silence At the more recent Programme and Investment Committee meeting in February the Crossrail ...
